Trees Radio Beta Access

Hey Ents, you're getting this e-mail because at some point probably at the end of October or beginning of November signed up to get notified if we'd opened up to the public, and you also volunteered in that form to be a beta tester.

So come on in!

Join us over at TreesRadio.com

Anyone with the link to the site will be able to join the open-beta, make an account, submit music and make friends on Trees Radio!

Feel free to share with friends!

The more the merrier, invite your friends all they need is to know it's at treesradio.com; and the more people that know the more problems we can find in the beta to get the site where it needs to be.

What does "beta access" mean?

"A trial of software in the final stages of its development, carried out by a party unconnected with its development."

The site may at times be glitchy, unstable and unusable. This will not harm your computer, but the site might not work at times because of it. Please send us an e-mail when you encounter problems so that we can get it fixed more quickly.
